

Disorganized information leads to confusion, delays, and unnecessary risk. YellowFolder helps districts centralize operational knowledge so teams can work securely and confidently.

WHY IT MATTERS

Critical information gets lost.

Important details in inboxes and shared drives are hard to find and easy to overlook.

Disconnected workflows create risk.

Siloed processes cause confusion, delays, and bottlenecks.

Without clear processes, people are vulnerable.

Uncertainty makes it easier for errors and deception to occur.

Teams waste time searching instead of moving forward.

Time spent hunting for information is time not spent serving students.

Knowledge lives in people, not in systems.

When people leave, critical knowledge leaves with them.
